About the Society for Investigative Dermatology (SID) and the SID Annual Meeting

The Mission of the Society for Investigative Dermatology (SID) is to advance and promote scientific evidence relevant to skin health and disease through education and scholarly exchange of scientific information, with the intent to foster improvement in the competence (abilities, skills and strategies) of dermatology researchers and clinicians.

The 77th Annual Meeting of the SID is a forum in which a diverse community of scientists comes to exchange information on the latest advances. The SID Annual Meeting draws a diverse group of senior researchers and clinicians, as well as hundreds of clinical trainees including dermatology residents. These healthcare professionals and basic researchers are on the frontline for recognizing systemic disease (including many types of cancer) with a skin-related association.
